Dunkin donuts gift card deals 2019

Assuming you have something to spend them on, gift cards are as good as money. One handy difference between money and gift cards, though: No one's going to trade you $50 in cash for less than $50. With a few clever tricks, however, you can buy gift cards for considerably less than their purchasing power. All you need to do to get the best price on a gift card is buy with the right credit card at the right place:Use a Gift Card Exchange SiteSites like Plastic Jungle and Gift Card Granny are popular places to purchase (and sell) gift cards secondhand.You can save as much as 35% off the face value of a gift card (or more if you include eBay sellers) by using one of these sites.The selection of gift cards on these resellers, however, may be slim at times and they often are sold in odd amounts, so if you're looking to save on a specific gift card amount, you might not have much luck here. Also, when you're in a hurry, it's easier to just go to the store to buy a gift card.Here's another strategy that'll get you a discount on the most popular gift cards automatically:Buy Gift Cards with a Rewards Credit Card at Groceries, Pharmacies, or Office Supply StoresUse your rewards credit cards to save money on gift cards. If you have a credit card that gives you something like 3 to 6 percent back on purchases made at the supermarket, you can buy gift cards at the supermarket—and therefore, in essence, save that 3 to 6 percent.Other places where you can buy gift cards that may also have corresponding credit card rewards categories include office supply stores and pharmacies.If you have these cards, for example, you can get cash back on gift cards you buy from certain places: American Express Blue Cash Preferred (6% back at supermarkets), Everyday (3% back at supermarket), or the grandfathered Everyday (5% back at supermarkets and pharmacies) card; Chase Ink (5% office supplies stores), Amex SimplyCash card and other Amex OPEN cards (5% on office supplies stores).Use a Gift Card to Buy a Different Gift CardBoardingArea describes another gift card and rewards card buying strategy: use the (discounted) gift card for one store to buy a different gift card you might actually use. For example, you might get a Toys R Us gift card (which you can get 5% cash back through uPromise) and then use that card to buy an Amazon gift card. If you buy an OfficeMax gift card with a credit card that rewards you for shopping at office supplies stores, then you can use that OfficeMax gift card to buy a different gift card. Check out Boarding Area's full chart of gift card hacks.Buy Gift Cards with Your Credit Card Rewards Programs/PointsFinally, if you have a rewards credit card, it might make more sense to redeem your rewards for a gift card rather than any other type of reward (e.g., cash or miles), since gift card redemptions are often cheaper and also on sale from time to time.Recently, for example, Citibank credit cards had a redemption offer for a $100 Amazon gift card for 9000 points (a savings of 1000 points or about $10), whereas their typical cash back reward is $50 for 10,000 points.If you buy gift cards through credit card or travel rewards shopping portals like Chase Ultimate Rewards or Aadvantage, you can earn miles or points on that gift card purchase.In short, you don't ever have to pay full price for a gift card.Photo by 401(K) 2012 A gift card is a prepaid card that can be used by anyone to whom it is given. Although a gift card usually looks like a credit card, no debt is incurred with its use. Gift cards have replaced the old paper gift certificates and are the perfect present for occasions when you are not sure what to buy.Deeper definitionGift cards with the logo of a major credit card on the front, such as a MasterCard, Visa, American Express or Discover, can be used at any store that accepts these cards. Some cards can be used at stores owned by the same parent company. For example, Gap Inc. owns Gap, Old Navy, Banana Republic and Athleta, so a Gap Inc. gift card is good at any of the stores it owns.Some gift cards can be used at only a single merchant. Businesses like Target, Amazon, Best Buy and Macy's offer cards that can be used to purchase only their goods. Some gift cards charge an activation fee of around $5. The activation fee is paid when the gift card is purchased. Some gift cards also charge a dormancy fee on cards that have not been used in one year.Some gift cards act like cash. If they are lost or stolen, the funds are in the hands of whoever has the card. Other cards can be registered online and can be reported as lost or stolen. Once that happens, the balance is frozen and transferred to a new card. Starbucks and Crate & Barrel are two retailers that encourage customers to register gift cards and will issue new ones if they are lost or stolen.If you plan to give a gift card as a present, also give the recipient the card's activation receipt and a piece of paper with the gift card number, including the extra security numbers that may be on the card. The recipient can more easily replace the card if it is lost or stolen.If the recipient realizes his card is missing, he should contact the retailer or credit card company immediately. The retailer should be able to freeze the account and issue a new card using the activation receipt or gift card number. Most store cards do not charge a replacement fee, but bank-issued cards may. Example of a gift cardThe person who is given a gift card can use it to pay for part or all of a purchase. Some gift cards have a maximum amount you can load but are reloadable, meaning the recipient can add funds later if he wants. Other gifts cards serve no further purpose once the balance is spent. does dunkin donuts have $10 gift cards. does dunkin donuts have $5 gift cards. does dunkin donuts sell $5 gift cards. does dunkin donuts have gift cards. where can i buy $5 dunkin donuts gift cards
